- (f) The issue is under examination.

SRI ABDUL KHUDDUS ANWAR.—May I know which of the answers furnished to (a) and (b) is correct?

† SRI S. M. YAHYA.—Both the answers are correct. Hon. Member is aware that the Contract Labour Act was enacted by Parliament and it was challenged and the matter went up to the Supreme Court. Ultimately the Supreme Court upheld the validity of the Act and thereafter the State Government framed the rules. The rules have come into force as on 5-12-1974 but there are certain preliminaries such as registration and licensing etc., which is being processed, at present.

SRI ABDUL KHUDDUS ANWAR.—Whether there is a provision for having a State Advisory Body under the Act for determining jobs giving representation to the representatives of the employees and if so, whether such a body has been set up?

S. M. YAHYA.—Under the Act there should be a State Advisory Committee. This committee has not been constituted yet because we have just framed the rules. The State Advisory Committee will come into existence as soon as the other preliminaries have been completed.

M. S. KRISHAN.—Despite the contract labour Act coming into force may I know what steps the Government has taken to see that all the labourers are absorbed?

SRI S. M. YAHYA.—That will be done according to contract Act and the rules thereunder.

SRI ABDUL KHUDDUS ANWAR.—Whether this 4,861 contract labourers working in MISL include the labourers in the fundary at MISL also?

SRI S. M. YAHYA.—This figure is inclusive of mines. This is the entire total number of contract labourers at present in both MISL and MPM.
